Forecast For Wales
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Thursday 29 Jul 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Storm Evert bringing a spell of wet and blustery weather.

This Evening and Tonight:
A band of heavy rain will arrive over southwestern areas through the evening, then cross the country overnight, bringing unseasonably strong winds and coastal gales. Further blustery showers follow this, affecting southern areas around dawn. Minimum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Friday:
A cloudy start, with strong winds and coastal gales gradually easing through the morning. Sunny spells and scattered heavy showers will follow across the country. Feeling cool in the wind. Maximum temperature 20 deg C (68 deg F).

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
Sunny spells and scattered showers on Saturday. Becoming drier with spells of sunshine in the north on Sunday, but with isolated showers further south. Risk of further showers on Monday.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.